

Zorro's Cabin Parcel

The existing District trail head on Lilac Lane accessing Santa Susana Historical Park is pictured below.

The property is known as Zorro's Cabin. It was originally built by Disney Studios as Zorro's hideaway in the famous TV series.

The structure is in remarkably sound condition, except for the need to do repairs to the roof.

With its oak trees and rock formations, the beauty of this site cannot be overstated.

The majority of the site has level terrain.

This rock formation represents the western boundary of the property.

The goal has been to connect Sage Ranch with the Santa Susana State Historical Park, with the Zorro's Cabin Parcel being a critical segment.
